

This document contains almost everything you need to play the traffic jam game. See my website for the page describing the rules of the game, and to see if I've uploaded any new puzzles recently.

To play the game, you need a book of puzzles, and a board, and some playing pieces.

To get the board and pieces, just print out this file, preferably in color. Then cut out the pieces. You may like to laminate them, so they all last longer.

The board is on the next page, the pieces on the page after. Print as many as you need!

The board for the traffic jam game :

And some playing pieces :

If you don't have a color printer, here's some pieces that should print better. Remember to color one of the short ones red before you laminate. :

